Your Holiday Guide to Character Defects

Step Eleven

Sought through prayer and meditation to improve our conscious contact with God as we understood Him, praying only for knowledge of His will for us and the power to carry that out.

My experience with Step 11 begins with my experience with the disease of alcoholism. At 19 I found myself hopelessly unable to stop drinking and using drugs. Despite a variety of attempts to stop on my own, I wound up getting checked in to a rehab. In that rehab I learned that I couldn't stop because I had a disease that made me want more. I was also introduced to AA where I found a sponsor who took me through the Big Book. In the Big Book I learned that the cure for my disease is a Spiritual Experience. To get that Spiritual Experience all I had to do was work the 12 Steps (simple, right?). Desperate for relief, I did work the 12 steps and the Big Book's promise held true: I no longer felt the need for more, I was sober. However, the Big Book also told me that this cure is not a one-time Spiritual Experience, but rather a Spiritual Experience that requires daily maintenance. That is where Step 11 comes into play.

Step 11 has given me the tools to maintain my spiritual connection to my Higher Power on a daily basis over the years. Right now this is mostly in the form of prayer. Every night before I put my son to bed we say our prayers. My prayers typically begin as a random wish list of things I want to happen, but eventually I remember that Step 11 tells us that we should pray only for God's will for us and the power to carry that out. At the end of our prayers, I disclaim everything on the wish list with the statement, "God, above all else, please allow me to be of service in whatever way you see fit". This prayer has helped me to maintain that Spiritual Experience for 7 1/2 years of sobriety, not to mention it takes a lot stress out of life!

Voice of the Volunteers

In sobriety I have had the "dubious luxury" of living for over 2 years in 11 different communities in 10 different states as well as living over 3 months in two additional states and one South American country. So I appreciate the need to deal with change and getting settled into a new community.

I have found it most helpful to go to a meeting and to always introduce myself as new to the community. I then listen intently for someone who appears to have a strong program – some insight, some joy, and some love. It is this person that I ask to tell me what meetings they go to and I then go to these meetings. At these meetings I repeat the process of asking and then going to these suggested meetings. In this way, the first month in a new area is packed with meetings and I have returned to each meeting that I have "liked" so that I am getting the fellowship I need. I then join a Home Group to solidify the Unity (or fellowship) side of the circle and triangle symbol that represents my AA program.

I have also found that being of service through Central Office and/or taking a service position at my home group lends added "insurance for myself against a possible slip" after relocating. But there are many ways for us to be of service and take action on the Service side of the triangle – making coffee, setting up chairs as well as welcoming and working with the newcomer.

Overall, the more I strengthen all sides of my AA program (Unity, Service, Recovery), the happier and healthier I am. So I have learned to take special care of these Legacies while relocating so that my character defects don't get in the way of the sunlight of the spirit.

MY HOME GROUP

Garden Variety

The "Garden Variety" is my home group. It meets every Sunday, 9:30-10:45am, at Anna's Restaurant. This is a meeting with longevity and consistency with members' regular attendance. The members of this group have a long history of service and maintain the different service positions in accordance with the General Service Office (GSO). This means having an active General Service Representative (GSR), Central Office Representative (CO), a Secretary, a Treasurer and Grapevine Representative.

Picking a home group is essential to support ones' recovery. Pick a group that follows the principles of the Twelve Traditions, where you have a voice, and when you attend you feel at home. I have dozens of individuals in my home group that I could call and depend on their support. When I go there they know my name.

I moved back to Utah 3 years ago after living out-of-state for 20 years. I felt like a new comer, uneasy and a little afraid. From personal experience, I know how important it is to plant yourself in the middle of AA as soon as you can. What has worked for me is attending different meetings until I feel comfortable, taking the opportunity to share and seek out service work.

Within the first couple of weeks of being back in Utah, I was at a meeting and afterwards a woman came up to me who recognized me as one of her best friends from junior high. Her smile and hug was a God send, and she introduced me to different meetings and people. Garden Variety Group was one of those groups. Left to my own devices, I would never get up on a Sunday morning and go to a 9:30am meeting, but now I can't imagine not going.

The Chair in the Corner

NOVEMBER

It's time for elections at Central Office! The current Secretary, Treasurer, Trustee and Alternate Trustee positions are nearing the end of their term. Kent S. has been our Secretary for two years and has contributed so much during his time serving our community. Prior to his Secretary position, he worked tirelessly guiding us through updating our Articles of Incorporation and the revision of our ByLaws. The revised ByLaws, approved by our members, were the catalyst for change that allowed many more members of AA to become involved in carrying the message to alcoholics in Utah. A big, heartfelt thanks to Kent for his love and dedication to AA and Central Office.

Adam U. took on the Treasurer position at the "nudging" from his sponsor, I believe, and we will be forever grateful. He helped walk us through updating our accounting system. Once again, thank you for your service.

Jeremy C. served as an Alternate Trustee for a year and then took the Trustee position for the past two years. Jeremy was the calm, practical voice always grounded in AA principle. Thank you for your patience! Kurt J. joined us a couple of months ago to serve out the term vacated by Rich W. Thanks to Rich and Kurt for the willingness to serve.

I'd like to invite anyone that is interested in serving on the Central Office Board of Trustees to come to our November Central Office Representative meeting on Tuesday, November 12th. The description and qualifications for the positions are available in the By-Laws which are located on the website, www.saltlakeaa.org, or at Central Office.

Love, Christy

A.A. on the Road

Friends with Benefits

Editor's note: I sent out a desperate plea for help to fill this page with holiday traveling tips for the alcoholic in recovery. Thanks to all.

Half measures availed us nothing. We stood at the turning point. We asked His protection and care with complete abandon. Here are the steps we took:

Take Grapevines, 12&12 app for smart phones, call the central office of the city your headed to and plan your meetings before you leave, don't over-do it, HALT is never good for us Alcoholics. And, last but not least, "be on guard for the unguarded moment" Meg G

I traveled a few times a week for a long time...not drinking at the airport and on trips was really difficult for me...I once heard over the speakers " friends of Bill, please meet up at gate 13"...I tried it once and two people came to my rescue! I stopped sitting in first class where drinks were free, brought along pocket BB and 12&12. I have also seen flyers in hotels with similar messages. I planned ahead and had meeting schedules for my destination and while driving brought along speaker CDs. Susan L

Check local website at destination for meeting schedule... Check to see if there is a Central Office. Call and get a couple names in case I can't make a meeting due to business...Tell my AA friends, sponsor and home group that I'm away, making me accountable. Also, make a few calls back to friends and sponsor while on road...Share my experience with guys I sponsor and showing them in an AA member going to meetings while on the road...Bring AA literature to read in morning or at night... Plan out a 'mini' meeting schedule and map out locations a day or two in advance so that I'm not rushed...Get to a meeting in plenty of time to introduce myself...Bring speaker tapes on trip...Pray - A lot. Don't drink, clean house, and trust in HP. remembering I'm on a spiritual journey. Kurt J

With family, friends, strangers or whoever, if you are uncomfortable, talk to the youngest person there (a child is great), OR the oldest person there and let them share something about themselves. Their worlds are so different from ours that hearing about their interests may help you get out of your head. David D

Have someone from the program meet you upon your arrival. Knowing that a sober person will greet you upon arriving at your destination may help. Kent S

Download, bookmark, or print out a schedule of meetings in the area you are going beforehand; also record the phone number to their Central Office. Jennie L-S

Bring copies of the Grapevine. Doug R

Call your sponsor and keep her informed of your doings. This is a disease of responsibility and accountability. That way we have a chance to make a choice to stay sober today. Good luck! Page T

Everything is pretty much online these days, so finding a meeting is a snap. Going to meetings out of town is not only good for one's sobriety, but also a way to meet people who are familiar with the area you are visiting. They can give you the skinny on where to eat and what to see. Alcoholics are never friendless. Brenda L

Yep, I have travelled for most of my sobriety and been to meetings all over the country. It's awesome. Just reach out and make that call to central office and find a meeting close to where you are. AA works everywhere. Rebecca R

When I was traveling, I just found a meeting every couple of days and called my friends in recovery. Laura H-N

Get a list of meetings where you are going. Meetings in new places are great. No matter where you are, you can find your place. Cyndy O

Don't drink. Rusty J

November 1934

Ebby Thatcher Visits Bill Wilson

In November 1934 a man named Ebby called another named Bill. We all know the story. But let's take a look at a few things that followed this meeting in November.

Bill had just come off another bad bender when his phone rang. It was Ebby, an old school mate of Bill's. Bill immediately invited him over to "talk about the old times." When Ebby arrived though, to Bill's astonishment Ebby was sober! Sitting down Bill inquired how this had happened. Ebby responded with "I've got religion!" This shocked Bill of course. He then went on to tell Bill how he had landed with a bunch of people that called themselves the Oxford Group. They had taught him some wonderful ideas. Now here is where Bill first learns of ideas.

He learned that he had to admit he was licked ; he ought to take stock of himself and confess his defects to someone else in confidence. He needed to make restitution for any harm he had done to others, and that he ought to practice the giving that has no price tag, the giving of self to another. Lastly, and as he puts it so gently to Bill, " I know you're going to gag on this, but that I ought to pray to whatever God I thought was out there for the power to carry out these precepts."

Ebby didn't try to evangelize or pressure him in the kinship of suffering, he tried to help another suffering alcoholic. He soon left. Bill's thoughts were always on what his friend had said that day. He did not stop drinking though. A few days later Bill was thinking, "If I had cancer wouldn't I do everything I could to heal myself? Alcoholism is not cancer, but didn't it waste away the mind and body just the same?" This lead Bill to visit Dr. Silkworth down at Town's Hospital once again.

After a few days and some sedatives, Bill found himself depressed and thinking about the God thing made him feel worse. Ebby visited him again, and this time Bill asked him to lay out his plan once again, which he did. After awhile Ebby left. Bill, alone on his bed, yelled up at nothing, "if there is a God show yourself to me! I'll do anything."

A journey begins for an alcoholic who a few days before was in the grip of illness which there is no known cure. From there Bill went out with his new plan given to him by his friend. Every day was a day in which he tried to carry this message to others. If we follow the rest of the story we will see how alcoholic #2 came about and then #3 and so on.

I wonder what would have happened had Ebby waited for Bill to come to him?

A Higher Power of My Understanding

A few days ago I had a chance meeting with a man I will call "Mike". His son was struggling with his demons and was working a twelve step program. Mike was hopeful that his son might be successful in his quest for recovery. He was quick to also say that he was an atheist and could never subscribe to a way of life that required one to live a life based upon our third step. Going further he gave his reasons. The innocent suffer, the guilty go free, cruelty and depravity are part of the human experience. No, and there could be no God that would have that.

I listened to what he said and remembered that was the way I thought before making my decision to turn my will and my life over to a power greater than myself. I did not have any words that would help him understand or justify taking the third step. This did not trouble me for I knew that I was facing "contempt before investigation" and that if I had the words, the words would not have been heard.

It is one of those strange things that now happen to me, that here was a question. If Mike could've heard an explanation, what explanation would I have given him? And an answer came from an unexpected place.

I was watching a report on television about the emergence of the grilled cheese sandwich sweeping the country. I know that I've seen a fast food place open in a large shopping center that is based upon nothing but grilled cheese. The reporter was interviewing a well-known chef who was about to open a gourmet restaurant in New York City based on the grilled cheese sandwich.

The chef was shown making the reporter a sandwich which had in it Gouda cheese, roasted peppers, dried tomatoes, grilled onions and roasted short ribs. The outside was a beautiful golden brown. The reporter took a bite and said it was fabulous but wasn't sure that it was a grilled cheese sandwich.

The chef then says to the reporter "You're missing the point, does it have melted cheese? Yes! Is it a melted cheese sandwich? I don't know. Is it delicious?" To that, the reporter said that it was, and the chef said "then just eat it!"

Tradition Eleven

"Our public relations policy is based on attraction rather than promotion; we need always maintain personal anonymity at the level of press, radio and films."

I do not speak for Alcoholics Anonymous; this is my experience:

What if I'm the only example of the Big Book of Alcoholics Anonymous that anybody ever sees? How do I want to behave—like a dry drunk, or in a manner that exemplifies the principles of the program of Alcoholics Anonymous? Thanks to a working a program and to good sponsorship, I have great relationships with my family members today. I am able to show up for them when I never could before. I practice the principles in all of my affairs, including my relationships with my family members. They have no idea how bad it really was, or what incomprehensible demoralization truly looks like. But they do know that I am a different person today thanks to a spiritual solution.

When I am maintaining my spiritual fitness, I have an attractive program. I do not need to run around promoting AA and all of it's glory. I simply live the program, lead by example, and I have found that people seek out my experience, strength and hope because they can relate to me, and not because I am telling them what to do, or how they should live. If I announce publically ("...at the level of press, radio, and films" – and internet) that I am a member of Alcoholics Anonymous, that suggests that I speak for AA. And if I were to go out and publically get drunk, then it might suggest that AA doesn't work. I am more than happy to break my anonymity when I think I can be of service by doing so. However, I don't make a habit of wearing an alcoholic badge, as I don't find it necessary—this disease doesn't define me. Every day, I show up for my recovery, and I practice being the best version of the Big Book that I can be.
