2015 International AA Conference Doug R.

"We are average Americans. All sections of this country and many of its occupations are represented, as well as many political, economic, social, and religious backgrounds. We are people who normally would not mix. But there exists among us a fellowship, a friendliness, and an understanding which is indescribably wonderful. We are like the passengers of a great liner the moment after rescue from shipwreck when camaraderie, joyousness and democracy pervade the vessel from steerage to Captain's table. Unlike the feelings of the ship's passengers, however, our joy in escape from disaster does not subside as we go our individual ways. The feeling of having shared in a common peril is one element in the powerful cement which binds us. But that in itself would never have held us together as we are now joined.

"The tremendous fact for every one of us is that we have a common solution. We have a way out on which we can absolutely agree, and upon which we can join in brotherly and harmonious action" - Alcoholic Anonymous page 17.

And it truly is a fellowship that is indescribably wonderful. At least that's has been and continues to be my experience.

Emotional Sobriety Pat

I grew up in an alcoholic home with two functional alcoholic parents. This was a traumatic childhood that I can bring into my relationships. My parents would get drunk together every night. My folks drank martinis; I loved the martini olives, and this wet my pallet for alcohol. They would visit with each other, and the only way we could be heard was to interrupt and talk over. This is a terrible habit to bring into work or social settings.

My dad was OCD about cleanliness and terrorized us when we made messes. Mom would say clean up your toys in one minute or daddy will leave home and never come back. My folks introduced me to drinking at seventeen. At home I was a rebel without a clue and broke all of the rules at work as well. I'm no longer in my alcoholic home and do not need to be defensive and aggressive, protective and reactive, apologizing and explaining, and repeating and complaining.

In 2004 I realized I had an allergy to alcohol. I was an addict from the start guzzling codeine cough syrup as a child. At seventeen I attended my first party and argued with the host, and he beat me up. At nineteen I was binge drinking with relatives and became mentally ill but never realized that drinking caused mania.

As a teenager I developed anorexia and bulimia and have had weight issues on and off for years; this was coupled with different psychiatric medications. I had knocked off most drinking in my twenties due to feedback from a psychiatrist boyfriend and never wanting to drink like my parents. I began seeing a psychiatrist who suggested I read the book Adult Children of Alcoholics where in I figured out that I grew up in an alcoholic home.

In my thirties I became mentally ill after drinking with my parents in their home and made a suicide attempt and almost died. I lost everything and spent two years living on welfare and food stamps. I had become disabled and survived on Social Security. When returned to the workforce, I had impaired memory from benzodiazepines and got sick and had to be hospitalized going off this med. Eventually psych meds became available that enabled me to work again. I discovered an allergy to steroids in my 7th year of sobriety. Any type of steroid makes me manic.

I found a New Age Church where I discovered a Higher Power. I met the man of my dreams and found the ability to work again. I quit smoking in 1999, quit benzodiazepines in 2001, alcohol in 2004, and steroids in 2011.

I was diagnosed with Multiple Sclerosis in 2008 and lost my job due to cognitive impairment. When I got sober in 2004 by working the steps with battle axe AA and Alanon sponsors, the recovery promises came true for me. My life is a whirlwind of acceptance. I can say God is breathing for me, thinking for me, acting for me, standing for me, listening for me, speaking for me, and one with me. I can quiet the mind and have God show me the way. I can pretend that God is saying to me "Yield to me; let me guide you; let me protect you; let me take care of you; let me relax you; let me soothe you; let me heal you, and let me cure you." I can quiet the mind and have God show me the way. I can focus, concentrate, watch, observe, reflect, notice, and listen. I can look around me and be blessed. I can be soft and slow, loving and giving, balanced, healthy, and faithful.

The recovery promises have come true for me, and the obsession with alcohol has been removed. I am seldom interested in liquor, and if tempted, I recoil from it as if from a hot flame.

Emotional sobriety means not wanting to hurt myself. I can be rid of my "bad girl complex". When I want to hurt myself, I can say, "Thank you old habit, but I don't need you anymore." Pain and mania are not in charge, and I can accept love and love myself.

Perfectionism is a tool to be critical; I can be loving and giving instead. I can "Be still and know I am God" and practice awareness, acceptance, and action. Instead of fear I can change my negative thoughts to positive. I can let go of self-seeking and ask for freedom from self-will. I'm grateful today for the ability to be of service to God and to my fellows. Under God's care I can pause, slow down, and stand now, walk now, drive now, listen now, speak now, and cognate better today. Amen! Pat 4

FRIENDSHIP GROUP - 10AM Saturdays Clark P

In 1983, when loneliness and desperation prodded me to go to more meetings, I discovered the newly formed Friendship Group that still meets Saturday 10 o'clock in the basement of Friendship Manor [thus the origin of the name]. In 1983, Saturday had only two daytime meetings, the Friendship Group and an afternoon 11th step meeting at the Alano Club.

The Friendship Group was like no other. It had been started by residents of the apartment building built for the elderly and disabled.. The group was attended by mainly older women with quality sobriety. There were few men. I was a humble, frightened and motivated student of AA back then, and not the "know it all prick" that I've turned into. I bonded with the women who were gracious, patient, encouraging, knowledgeable, and to me surprisingly fascinating. When these older women opened up with their alcoholic adventures, I was flabbergasted. The little lady with the knitting bag told promiscuous stories that embarrassed me, who grew up during the free love 60s. There was May S. a resident of Friendship Manor with 40 years of sobriety, Pat N., born in territorial New Mexico [one of the wisest people I've ever known], Kay P. a cornerstone of the group, married to Matt P. who was a "General" of my home group the Men's Sugarhouse Group. And there were others Beverly H. Mary O., Betty G. and Bonnie P. that were equally as well grounded and had fascinating stories behind their deceptive looks of crocheted sweaters and bifocals. I am grateful these women took me in. They were educated in the ways of the 12 steps. Even though these women understood the theoretical truths, they insisted on being pragmatic in their approach. Their tradition was to go to the Village Inn for breakfast after the meeting. I invited myself and was welcomed. There, at the café, after the meeting, fellowshiping proved its' value. These wonderful women were full of applied wisdom but also students of other philosophical thoughts. I was surprised when conversations would include Gurdjieff, Alan Watts, Krishnamurthy, The Hemlock Society, or even Allen Ginsberg. I learned to keep quiet and learn rather than show my ignorance.

As the population of AA grew, the meeting grew and the demographic became more general. Because it had the exclusive Saturday morning time slot, the meeting gained popularity. Years later, a satellite meeting broke off to 8:30 and has proved very popular. Even the 8:30 meeting got so crowded that another one broke off of that and is now on 17th South and 17th East. All of this proves Saturday morning is a delightful time to take in the fellowship. But the traditional taproot is 10 o'clock at Friendship Manor. It is a 12&12 book study meeting that everybody finds valuable in its illumination of the 12 steps.

The grand old heirloom meeting is still dedicated to traditional AA truths and traditions. The regulars are knowledgeable, helpful and anxious for some new players. This summer it is lightly attended and I encourage you to make it a regular part of your Saturday morning like I did for so many years.

Step 8

“Made a list of all persons we had harmed, and became willing to make amends to them all”

“We have a list of all persons we have harmed and to whom we are willing to make amends. We made it when we took inventory. We subjected ourselves to a drastic self-appraisal. Now we go out to our fellows and repair the damage done in the past. We attempt to sweep away the debris which has accumulated out of our effort to live on self-will and run the show ourselves. If we haven't the will to do this, we ask until it comes. Remember it was agreed at the beginning we would go to any lengths for victory over alcohol.

Tradition 8

Practice These Principles...

Tradition Eight: Alcoholics Anonymous should remain forever nonprofessional, but our service centers may employ special workers.

1. Is my own behavior accurately described by the Traditions? If not, what needs changing?
2. When I chafe about any particular Tradition, do I realize how it affects others?
3. Do I sometimes try to get some reward—even if not money—for my personal AA efforts?
4. Do I try to sound in AA like an expert on alcoholism? On recovery? On medicine? On sociology? On AA itself? On psychology? On spiritual matters? Or, heaven help me, even on humility?
5. Do I make an effort to understand what AA employees do? What workers in other alcoholism agencies do? Can I distinguish clearly among them?
6. In my own AA life, have I any experiences which illustrate the wisdom of this Tradition?
7. Have I paid enough attention to the book Twelve Steps and Twelve Traditions? To the pamphlet AA Tradition—How It Developed?

 These questions were originally published in the AA Grapevine in conjunction with a series on the Twelve Traditions that began in November 1969 and ran through September 1971. While they were originally intended primarily for individual use, many AA groups have since used them as a basis for wider discussion.

The fourteenth International convention held this year in Atlanta Georgia was no exception! 57,000 of my closest and dearest friends gathered over the 4th of July weekend to celebrate AA's 80th birthday! And what a celebration it was!

The opening celebration on Thursday July 2 started with a flag ceremony. The crowd was electric with excitement as the announcer counted down to the beginning of the weekend event. 10, 9, 8, 7, 6, 5, 4, 3, 2, 1 was displayed on the jumbo screens at the Georgia Dome. The crowd cheered as a marching drum band made its way through the capacity filled stadium and on to the stage.

98 countries from all over the world were represented. The first was a Native American, then alphabetically each presenter proudly carried their country's flag out from behind the stage and placed them in their stand on either side of the stage where they stayed throughout the conference.

The opening ceremony culminated with a speaker meeting in which three members of Alcoholics Anonymous shared what it was like, what happened and what it's like now. The message of hope was strong and prevalent!

There were many more workshops than any one person could go to at once. There literally were at least four or five to choose from at any given time. It was suggested to me to get to the ones I wanted to attend at least a half hour early, which was good advice because the rooms tended to fill up very fast! Our friend Charlie T bought the entire set of recordings so they will be available very soon.

Saturday's main meeting is what they call the "old timers" meeting. To be considered an old timer you have to have 50 or more years. At that meeting there were 100 people with 50 years or more of sobriety, and in a little section in front of the stage sat over 5,300 years of sobriety! I can't imagine that, I can't imagine how much collective sobriety there was with 57,000 of us in the Georgia Dome!!! They drew 12 names from that 100 and each one got 5 minutes to share. I thought for sure they would get up there and say, "Ok boys and girls here's how you do it . . ." They didn't! In fact one guy, I forget his name so I'll call him Bob. When he got his turn he said, "My name's Bob and I'm an alcoholic, I'm American / Mexican, except when I was drinking, then I was an Italian." Then would just laugh and laugh, He said you guys give him the giggles! That's attraction to me, that's exactly what I want from this deal, and for the most part that's exactly what I have. I am Happy, Joyous and Free!

Even with 57,000 of us there at the International and knowing that there are over 2 million members worldwide the thing that really struck me was that it's still about one alcoholic sharing with another alcoholic. Two people carrying the message of hope, the message that our founders wrote in the first 164 pages of our book. We are so blessed to have this program of recovery, this way of living that really does work.

This year I decided two weeks before the conference to go, I had never attended one before. I'm already making plans for the next one that will be held in Detroit in 2020. I'm planning on renting a condo for the week. Anyone want to come with?

Meeting Minutes for

July 15, 2015, 6:30 PM

Meeting called to order by Nick R, Board Chair, at 6:30 pm

Nick R read the Central Office Statement of Purpose. Nick asked attendees if they would be ok to have only the new CORs introduce themselves, rather than go around the entire group to save time. Attendees unanimously agreed.

Treasurer – Martin C reported that CO continues to be in healthy financial condition. Asked CORs to ask their group member who submits the donations to clearly identify the group name, and a contact name and phone number.

Old Business:

Charlie T presented details for starting and maintaining meeting(s) for the deaf. Discussion of pro and cons, including cost to hire a sign language professional. Final show of hands on proposal: 22 for, 11 opposed. Points made by opposing groups: a) each group should be autonomous; b) funding for a sign language interpreter should come from district office, not central office; c) sign language provider should be a service position, not a paid position.

Standing Committee Reports:

Activities – Dani A reported that the Moonlight Hike will be held on July 31 at Red Butte Garden Shoreline Trail to the Living Room. Cosmic Bowling Party planned for August 26, 6-10 pm at Bonwood Bowling, 2500 S Main Street. Researching options for the Chili Cook off including St Ambrose Church which requires a member of the congregation to “sponsor” event. Other locations being considered. Committee considering an evening picnic event. More help needed. Nick asked CORs to take event fliers to home groups and encourage members to volunteer.

Archives – Josh D reported all is well

Corrections – Dave R needs more volunteers to fulfill the large number of meetings wanted. Application forms and instructions for submission provided. He asked that Lifeline publish birthdays. Gina told him she would make that happen.

CPC – no report

Hotline – Danny R reported a break down in calls being taken during certain time frames. Requested a volunteer to take calls Monday 12 am to Tuesday 10 am. Patrick R volunteered.

Literature – Allison F reported on pamphlet of the month, The AA Member – Medications and Other Drugs. Presented project to provide a portable central office book and pamphlet “store” for CORs to take to meetings. Creating a price list and is addressing other issues before launching.

Lifeline Newsletter – Hailey S provided report to Gina by phone. She needs to resign and will help until new chair is found. Doug R, Gina and Jenny will help Hailey.

Outreach – no report.

PI – Laura C stated nothing to report

Tech Support – no report

Treatment – report given by Kim in Randy C’s absence. Randy’s father passed away. Continuing efforts to coordinate with the districts. District 10 has a new chair, Chris

12th Step Committee – Tim E needs more volunteers

Volunteers – Cody S reported that the first Volunteer meeting will be held on Saturday, July 18 at Noon at Central Office.

Web servant – Doug R, Web site is receiving a healthy number of hits including new and ongoing users. 6,034 sessions, 3,070 users, 40% new users, 60% returning users, 70% from mobile devices. Explained web can be accessed from mobile devices. Please contact Doug directly to learn how to do this. Has updated calendar of events. Asked CORs to see if any of their home group members have techy talent as they are needed for his committee. They can contact him directly at web-servant@saltlakeaa.org. Thanked everyone for keeping him up to date on events. Introduced Pete to present details on the National Bridge the Gap Workshop being held in Park City Sept 11 – 13, 2015. Needs help with hospitality and other positions. See Area 69 assembly at utah.aa.org.

Nick asked all who attend meetings in addition to their home groups to find out if they have a rep, invite them to vote one in, and send them to meetings so they are represented in the body. Nick stated he is not interested in changing things, just growing representation of the meetings.

Next CORs meeting on Tuesday, August 10, 2015 at 6:30 pm at Salt Lake Central Office.

Meeting adjourned followed by the Serenity Prayer.

Respectfully submitted,

Gina F
